How many of the younger students of public affairs know that the greatest power of the president of this republic is in the so-called pocket veto? When he vetoes an act of congress and re-turns it to the house, in which it originated, it still can be made a law by a two-thirds vote of the senate and of the house of representatives. But when he refrains from approving of disapproving an emetiment, the measure dies at the expiration of the legal limit of time for action after the adjournment of congress. That is a pocket veto, and from it there is no appeal. It is an interesting fact that the chief magistrate derives his greatest power from a provision that is seem-ingly incidental,

THREW AWAY HIS CANES.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liminent did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by A. Grave, Shiner and A. M. Kotzabue, Moulton.'

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Webber, Holland, Mass., had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute threat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its cures. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by A. Grave, Shiner and A. M. Kotzalue, Moulton. The little daughter of Mr. Fred Web

Where Rome Isn't In it.

Where Rome lan't In it.
"There is one feature in connection with this city, in comparison with which Rome isn't in it, never was in it, and I take it upon myself to say, never will be in it," bragged a western man as he escorted a party of tourists over one of the big towns of the west. "In what does that feature consist?" asked a curious visitor.

"Rome wasn't built in a day," proudly answered the western man.-

Our people are growing more and more in the habit of looking to A. Grave, Shiner and A. M. Kotzahue, Moulton, for the latest and best of everything in the drug line. They sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds, croup and whooping cough. When in need of such a medicine give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result.
